Hello HI-travelers ! My name is Anne-Laure and I'm French. Like you, I love traveling : I have already been in different countries in Europe, I have spent one-year-long in Sweden and three wonderful months in Hostelling-International Chicago! I would like to share with you one of my traveling experience in India. Two years ago, I have been for three weeks in an orphanage in Madurai, in the South of India, I have been there with a friend of mine in order to give money we had collected the year before our departure to people living in this orphanage, and in order to paint and renovate the rooms in the orphanage. We bought also a computer to train the 17 young girls living in this orphanage. We organized an excursion in an entertainment park and took charge of hand-made activities. Girls were really excited since these activities were unusual for them! I learned a lot during this trip. A conversation, an exchange was built between people from the orphanage and us: A cultural exchange, an exchange of our experiences, an enrichment. My friend and I shared simple moments with Indian people that were extremely welcoming: sitting on the floor for having lunches and dinners, discussions and activities together. The recognition we received from them made us understand that with the little we can give helps a lot ; and that we gain even more. Anne-Laure Guesné, aguesne@mac.com
